Social Guide. An introduction to The Ashmolean Museum for school groups arriving through the Beaumont Street entrance.

I am going to The Ashmolean Museum. Inside the Museum are objects and artworks from different places and times. The Museum is a very large building.

There are some steps and a slope to get to the front door.

I will go through some large glass doors.

Inside there are people who will help me.
If I have any questions about anything I can ask any of the adults who work in the Museum.

There are large galleries full of objects and places to sit down.

There are stairs in the Museum.

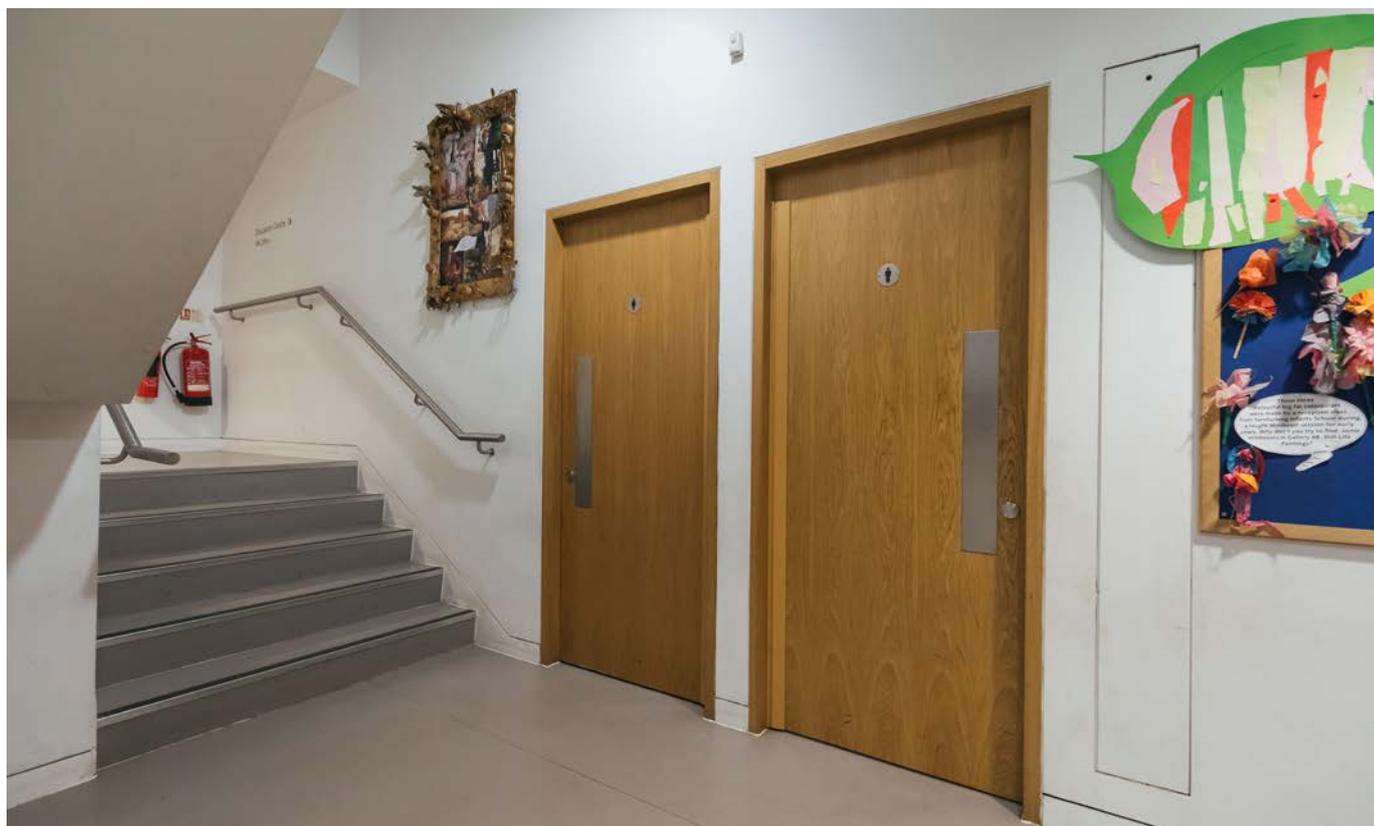

Or I can use the lift.

I will go through doors to the Learning Centre to leave my things.

I will go down the stairs past some toilets.

I can leave my coat, bag and lunch in the lunch room.

There are coat hooks and a tub for my things.

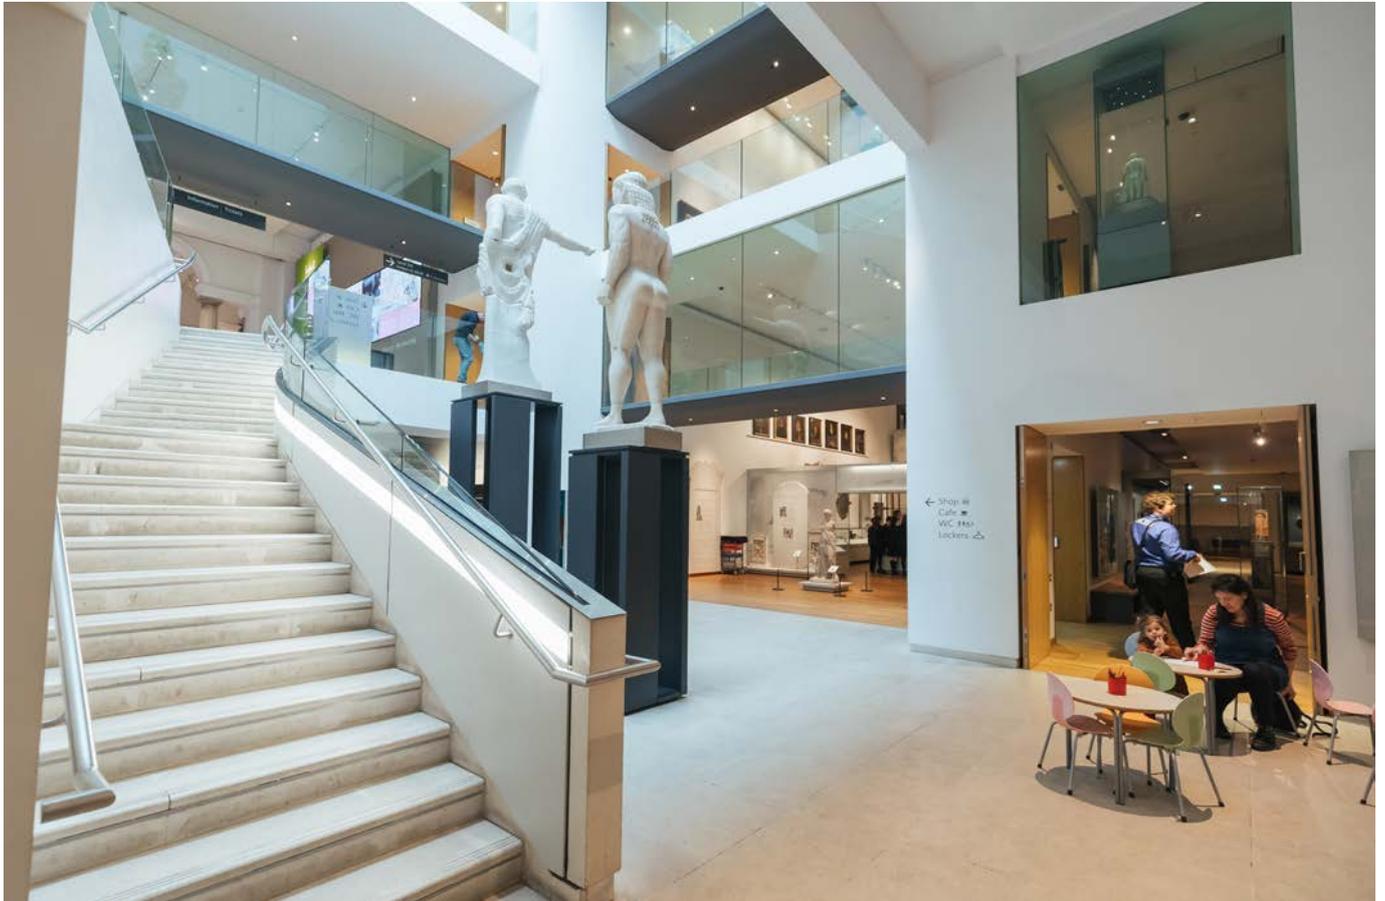

Sometimes, I will work in the Learning Studio which is like a classroom.

I can go to the galleries through wooden doors.

There are stairs to different floors in the Museum.

Around the Museum, there are people who will help me and show me the way. They also keep the art and objects safe.

At the information desk there are people who will help me if I have questions or need a map. If there is a queue I may have to wait a few minutes.

There are people at the desk who I can ask for help.

The Museum has lots of floors.

There are some walkways with glass sides.

There are galleries full of art and objects.
They are different sizes, some are dark and some are light.

Sometimes the Museum is quiet.

Sometimes it is busy.

There is a café on the lower ground floor.

And a shop where I can buy things.

When I want to leave, I can go through doors to the Learning Centre to collect my things.

I can visit the Museum again if I want to.
